Special Notes of Thanks!

Thank you, St. Thomas Angels Group, for covering the cost of the parish's new advent wreath and candles! It is beautiful and has added so much to our worship space this Advent season. Thank you for all that you do for our parish and community throughout the year, especially for sharing your homemade goodies with those who are homebound this holiday season. All that you do makes a difference in all the lives that you touch with your kindness.

Thank you, Renee Gier, for starting the Rosary Ministry before the 10:00 am Mass. Praying the Rosary starts at 9:30 am on Sunday mornings before Mass begins. This is a wonderful way to prepare ourselves for Mass. Thanks to all of those who are joining in!

So grateful and blessed to have so many more to thank for all that you do!

This Sunday at our 10:00 Mass we are Handing the Creed to our Catechumens and Candidates. In Pope Leo XIV's Apostolic Letter issued November 23, 2025, it emphasizes the importance of Christian unity and the shared profession of faith among believers. It reflects the call for Christians to walk together in harmony, safeguarding and transmitting the gift of faith they have received. This concept is deeply rooted in the Christian tradition as the pope commemorates the 1,700th Anniversary of the Council of Nicaea. The pope states, "I would like this letter to encourage the whole Church to renew her enthusiasm for the profession of faith." Historically the Creed was a profession of faith for early Christians, often a last stand before martyrdom. Let us all enthusiastically profess our faith as the early Christians before us.

Soul Food

By Fr. Tomy

Today, on Gaudete Sunday, the Church invites us to let one word fill our hearts: Rejoice. In the middle of Advent's waiting, the rose candle shines like a soft dawn, reminding us that even when night feels long, God makes beauty bloom in the deserts of our lives.

Christian joy is not built on perfect circumstances, but on one unshakeable truth: God loves us—completely and personally. This is the joy of a perfect love that holds us even when life does not.

In the Gospel, John the Baptist, imprisoned and surrounded by uncertainty, sends his disciples to ask Jesus, "Are you the One who is to come?" His question, born from the darkness of a cell, still carries hope. Jesus answers not with explanations but with signs of love: the blind see, the lame walk, the deaf hear, the poor receive Good News. In other words: "John, rejoice—salvation is already unfolding." Jesus brings joy not by removing our struggles but by entering them. Thus, Gaudete Sunday proclaims that joy is not the absence of troubles, but the presence of God.

Pope Francis often reminds us, "A Christian is a man or woman of joy. There are no sad saints." True joy is quiet, steady, and rooted in the certainty that God walks with us, guides us, and never abandons us. The rose candle we light today is the candle of joyful hope, whispering that Christ has come, Christ is near, and Christ will come again.

Isaiah foretells deserts blooming and fearful hearts strengthened because God Himself comes to save us. We rejoice not because everything is already changed, but because Christ is changing everything—patiently and faithfully. He came in history, He comes now in grace, and He will come again in glory. This is the joy that animated the early Church, the joy that converted hearts and strengthened martyrs, the joy that reveals the Holy Spirit living within us.

We belong to a Kingdom greater than anything the world can promise. And as Christmas draws near, we remember: Joy is not a decoration. Joy is the sign that Christ lives in us.

Three Practical Ways to Live Christian Joy

1. Practice "joyful presence" with someone often overlooked.

Choose one person this week—an elderly parishioner, someone who is lonely, a coworker who struggles silently, or even someone difficult to be around. Give them your full, gentle presence. Not things—presence. Joy grows when we make someone feel seen and valued.

2. Create a small "Advent joy corner" at home.

Place a Scripture verse of joy, a small candle, or a Nativity image in a quiet spot. Spend two minutes a day there praying: "Lord, let Your joy be born in me." This makes joy not an emotion, but a daily practice rooted in prayer.

3. Offer one hidden sacrifice joyfully.

Do something difficult or inconvenient—without telling anyone:

*forgive silently, *let go of a complaint, *do an unpleasant chore with a smile, *give quiet alms.

This hidden offering forms the heart and brings the deep joy Jesus spoke of the joy the Father sees in secret.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Our parishes welcome all those who were recently confirmed this past Saturday at the Cathedral.

Congratulations to all and let us keep them in our prayers as their faith journey is just beginning.
